Customer Reviews

Kids Camp offers innovative ideas to help kids of all ages keep busy during camp outings, even on raining days. Laurie Carlson offers 100+ original ideas, including instructions on concocting "wilderness punch" and writing with berry ink, guaranteed to entertain young campers. Whether you are organizing a scout campout, or camping in your own backyard, Kids Camp offers original and creative ideas, accompanied by great illustrations, to entertain and educate children and adults!

This is a wonderful book that can keep children occupied for hours on end. It provides many activities that children can do alone or with their parents. Most of the materials required can be found in the home or outside. The children will learn valuable survival information from many of the activities. The projects are worth the effort; they don't result in a choppy hodge-podge of junk. The illustrations are very helpful. Overall, this book is great for teachers, parents, and children.

I bought this book so I could plan "Kid Camp" one day a week with my two grandchildren. It offered good ideas and has good pictures. I'm glad I bought it.

I would skip this book. I have a son in cub scouts, and the cub scout book tells soo much MORE than this one does. I didn't find the info valuable. I thought it would give my kids activities to do, like games to play, scavenger hunt ideas/ things to look for, activities to do around the fire etc. Im trying to bring my family together and keep them engaged. I honestly cannot believe this book was published. Sorry.

Packed with clever ideas, it's a great tool for the car camper or the parent who's attacking the disease of "nature deficit disorder" among kids. It's a fun book with many easy-to-accomplish activities for kids, cub scout/girl scout groups, day camps, or just your own little nature-lovers.

Gave it to our 9 year old grandson, Ryan, and he was so excited at the activities. His dad is taking him camping and is planning all their activities from the book.

Truth is I wish I had time to do these activities ;( don't know when I will but at least we can have fun planning them together.
